Grand Blanc dentist takes over practice

DAVISON — Building on 13 years in the community, Dr. Emily R. Schwartz has been chosen by Dr. Paul M. Decker to succeed him in practice as he embarks on a new phase of his life.

As Decker leaves the practice the name will change to Davison Dental, PLLC.

Schwartz, who lives in Grand Blanc, said she hopes the new practice name broadens perceptions and embraces the hometown feel, location and mission of the dental office.

"It's our goal to serve and support the Davison community, and with the new name we hope to identify the practice as a dedicated contributor and positive force in the local business community," said Schwartz.

Decker, also of Grand Blanc, said, "Dr. Schwartz is acutely aware that quality of care is very important to our patients, but what mattered most to the staff, was that Dr. Schwartz was a very caring, compassionate and thoughtful person. After a long and thorough search for an individual who would able to transfer the practice to Dr. Schwartz, whom I respect both personally and professionally."

"When the opportunity arose for me to become the successor in Dr. Decker's practice, I was honored.

"It is a distinct privilege to be selected from the many candidates," said Schwartz in a statement.

Schwartz was born and raised in southeast Michigan. She completed her undergraduate studies at Albion College where she received a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology.

Upon graduation from Albion, she attended the University of Michigan School of Dentistry where she earned her Doctor of Dental Surgery degree.

In the years following dental school she worked in two successful Genesee County practices with the long-term goal of becoming a practice owner.

The practice is located at 1049 S. State Rd., in Davison and can be reached at 810-653-3393 or online at www.davisondental.com. — G.G.
